

Appendix B: Suspected Preeclampsia Algorithm

Based on ACOG Practice Bulletin 222, June 2020

The management and decision to deliver baby applies equally to Preeclampsia and Gestational Hypertension

TREAT BP ACCORDINGLY

If abnormal labs or symptoms, proceed to delivery

*Clinicians may consider antihypertensive therapy at 155/105 mm Hg given the association with increased maternal morbidities at this threshold in several studies as discussed in Toolkit Section: Borderline Severe-Range Blood Pressures: A Clinical Conundrum on page 35.

This figure was adapted from the Improving Health Care Response to Preeclampsia: A California Quality Improvement Toolkit, funded by the California Department of Public Health, 2014; supported by Title V funds.
